COURSE DESCRIPTION AND PURPOSE

Myth and Ritual in Film

This online course integrates theoretical discussions of myth and ritual (as interrelated cultural dimensions of religion) with analyses of the relatively contemporary medium of film. In each case, a collective artistic experience employs narrative form to evoke, to explain, or even to create meaning. Following the trail of 19th-century anthropology and 20th-century psychology, we will examine the binding connections between myth and ritual, and we will also seek out their secular analogues in literature and drama on our way toward film as an integrative multi-media form of cultural expression. We will explore the sociological implications of mainstream cinema (such as Spielberg, Pixar, etc.) as shared experience, film adaptations of myth versus myth-inspired storytelling, theological and political interpretations (e.g., of alien films), and much more. Online interactive features will include live discussion, video, and even some amateur filmmaking on the part of the students.

GLOBAL LEARNING INITIATIVES

The Honors College Seminars: Aesthetics, Values, and Authority, examine the aesthetic underpinnings of culture and foundations of what commonly are held to be “western values.” Discussions will focus not only on these paradigms, but also on the authority and power relationships associated with them. This course aims to fulfill the goals of the global learning initiative. Innovative pedagogical strategies will be utilized to raise students’ awareness of the interrelatedness of local, global, international, and intercultural issues. The interdisciplinary nature of the Honors College will facilitate students’ ability to develop a multi-perspective analysis of local, global, international, and intercultural problems, as well as their willingness engage in problem solving in diverse settings.

Global Learning Initiatives:

Global Awareness (GA on the syllabus) - Students will demonstrate knowledge of the interrelated global dynamics (social-cultural, political, economic, etc.) that shape aesthetics, values, and authority in diverse cultural contexts.

Global Perspective (GP on the syllabus) - Students will be able to analyze the multiple global forces that shape their understanding of aesthetics, values, and authority — economic, political, sociological, technological, and cultural. Global

Engagement Global Engagement (GE on the syllabus) - Students will be able to develop solutions to local, global, international, and/or intercultural problems and be able to articulate the causes and contributions to these problems through the paradigm of aesthetics, values and authority.
COURSE OBJECTIVES

After successful completion of this course student will be able to…

…analyze and articulate six dimensions of religion, how they interrelate, and how they contribute to a working definition of religion.

…evaluate contrasting opinions about the relationship between two particular dimensions of religion, myth and ritual. Included among these opinions are various forms of myth-ritualism, monomyths of kingship succession, and the pattern of the hero.

…compare and contrast the themes, applications, and legacies of myth and ritual as they appear in the art forms of literature, drama, and film.

…employ critical and creative thinking skills in assessing the psychological and sociological effectiveness of filmmaking as a literary/dramatic medium for transmitting elements of myth and ritual.

…compare and contrast genres and styles of film (such as science fiction, martial arts films, documentaries, animated films, etc.) and gauge the effectiveness of each in expressing and delivering elements of myth and ritual.

…employ structured argumentation and public speaking skills in presenting seven video blogs. These will apply and evaluate theoretical orientations from the textbook and lectures to the assigned films.

…articulate in formal writing an analysis of a film that they choose. To do this, they will draw upon at least three theorists of myth and ritual discussed in the course.

…synthesize concepts from the weekly readings, lectures, and films to create short original films of their own.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

POLICIES

Please review the FIU's Policies webpage. The policies webpage contains essential information regarding guidelines relevant to all courses at FIU, as well as additional information about acceptable netiquette for online courses.

HONORS POLICIES

In The Honors College, the term “honor” refers both to academic accomplishment and character. Students in Honors should therefore adhere to and be held to the highest standards of personal academic accountability.

Policy on religious holidays, accommodations for disabilities, and academic misconduct.

Academic Standing
Misconduct
Improvement

Religious Observances: Every effort will be made, where feasible and practical, to accommodate students whose religious practices coincide with class requirements scheduling. Please make sure to notify your instructor at the beginning of the semester of which dates you will be absent or any anticipated problems with completing coursework.

Physical, Mental and Sensory Challenges: Every effort will be made, where feasible and practical, to accommodate students who are so challenged. Should you require accommodations, contact the Disability Resource Center (DRC), if you have not done so already.” Please note that if you have a student who is registered with the DRC, you will receive notification about the student’s disability and a detailed description of accommodations the student will require.

Honors College Requirements

Registration in this course implies an acceptance of and compliance with the Honors College policies for students and the FIU Code of Academic Integrity.

Honors Citizenship Requirements

Beginning in Fall 2014, Honors College students are required to accumulate at least 20 citizenship points each academic year (Fall and Spring) by attending Honors College activities. Students attending only one semester (Fall or Spring) are required to accumulate 10 citizenship points.

Student Portfolios

The Honors College will be using a portfolio method to assess students' learning outcomes. The portfolio allows for maximum flexibility in gauging student learning. Students decide (with instructor consultation) what “artifacts” or assignments to include for consideration in their portfolios to demonstrate successful achievement of each of five key student learning outcomes over the 4-year Honors experience.

Honors Education in the ARTS (HEARTS)

The HEARTS program is designed to give Honors College students opportunities to “explore and appreciate different artistic and cultural traditions and modes of artistic expression. HEARTS will also serve as a clearinghouse (and curatorial framework) for our students to experience the arts on campus and in the community by providing them with information about cultural activities and access to performances with free or discounted tickets.

Honors College Academic Misconduct Statement

In The Honors College, the term “honor” refers both to academic accomplishment and character. Students in Honors should therefore adhere to and be held to the highest standards of personal academic accountability. Academic dishonesty in any form, including plagiarism, is antithetical to the very definition of being an Honors student at FIU. Consequently, an Honors College student found responsible for academic misconduct will be dismissed from the College.

Procedures and Penalties

An Honors faculty member may bring charges of academic misconduct against an Honors student if the faculty member suspects plagiarism or other forms of academic misconduct. The faculty member will decide whether to pursue informal resolution, file formal resolution charges, or take no further action, and will follow the procedures outlined in the Honors College website, and the Academic Misconduct Procedures.

TECHNICAL REQUIREMENTS & SKILLS

One of the greatest barriers to taking an online course is a lack of basic computer literacy. By computer literacy we mean being able to manage and organize computer files efficiently, and learning to use your computer's operating system and software quickly and easily. Keep in mind that this is not a computer literacy course; but students enrolled in online courses are expected to have moderate proficiency using a computer. Please go to the "What's Required" webpage to find out more information on this subject.

This course utilizes the following tools:

- Youtube
- Video Everywhere

Please visit our Technical Requirements webpage for additional information.

EXPECTATIONS OF THIS COURSE

This is an online course, which means most (if not all) of the course work will be conducted online. Expectations for performance in an online course are the same for a traditional course. In fact, online courses require a degree of self-motivation, self-discipline, and technology skills which can make these courses more demanding for some students.

Students are expected to:

- Review the How to Get Started information located in the course content.
- Introduce yourself to the class during the first week by posting a self-introduction with a photo of yourself in the appropriate discussion forum. [See student Bio Activity]
- Review PPT “Avoiding Errors” that is part of Quiz #1
- Take the practice quiz to ensure that your computer is compatible with Blackboard.
- Interact online with instructor/s and peers and keep up with all assignments.
- Review and follow the course calendar. Any appropriate changes will be sent via course message and announcement.
- Log in to the course (several times per week)
- Respond to discussion boards, blogs and journal postings as required
- Submit assignments by their corresponding deadlines.
- Use word doc or docx to submit assignments, double line space your work using academic style writing. Some formats are not compatible and cannot be opened in Blackboard; thus your compliance is important. If you send an incompatible document, it will be returned with a grade deduction and resubmitted in the proper format for a grade.
The FIU library provides a number of services to distance learning students. For example:

- Students can request a chat session in Learn 9 for an explanation on how to access library resources.
- Students can request detailed instructions on how to access library resources.

COURSE DETAIL

COURSE COMMUNICATION

Messages is a private and secure text-based communication system which occurs within a course among its members. Users must log on to Blackboard to send, receive, or read messages. The Messages tool is located on the Course Menu, on the left side of the course webpage. It is recommended that students check their messages routinely to ensure up-to-date communication.

This is the best method to communicate with your instructor privately.
Visit our Writing Resources webpage for more information on professional writing and technical communication skills.

ASSESSMENTS

Quizzes – Each week students will complete a short quiz covering material discussed in that week’s readings and lectures. 30% of final grade

In order to mitigate any issues with your computer and online assessments, it is very important that you take the "Practice Quiz" from each computer you will be using to take your graded quizzes and exams. It is your responsibility to make sure your computer meets the minimum hardware requirements.

Assessments in this course are not compatible with mobile devices and should not be taken through a mobile phone or a tablet. If you need further assistance please contact FIU Online Support Services.

DISCUSSION FORUMS

Keep in mind that your discussion forum postings will likely be seen by other members of the course. Care should be taken when determining what to post.

INTRODUCE YOURSELF VIDEO BLOG

Blogs are an open communications tool for students to share their thoughts. Here you can post text, images, links and attachments, open for comments.

1. This course has 1 assignment utilizing the Blog tool. Within week 1 module you will find information on how to upload a video to YouTube and how to upload a video through Video Everywhere into the Introduce Yourself blog. Students will upload their videos to their personal YouTube channel and then into the assignment's particular blog by the due date noted in the weekly calendar portion of this syllabus.
2. Blogs can be found in the Bog portion of the course menu or within the content area of the course.

VLOGS

(2 minutes minimum) students will be required to record and submit short video blogs or “vlogs” seven times during the semester. These consist merely of video of the students speaking. From the reading and lectures, students will utilize theoretical approaches about myth and ritual applied through the lens of the films we are reviewing. Students will also offer their own interpretation of the films’ meaning and impact. Each video must be preceded by a written outline. Instructor will provide detailed prompts of what to look for when preparing each vlog. 30% of final grade

ASSIGNMENTS

COURSE ESSAY

Essay – (5 pages minimum) students will select a film of their own choosing to view and analyze. Students will conduct their own original analysis of the mythic and ritual elements portrayed or commented upon in the film. To construct an original analytical lens through which to view the film in question, students will integrate the ideas of at least three theorists discussed in the course. 15% of final grade

Submitting a Paper to Turnitin:
AFTER YOU HAVE WRITTEN AND SAVED YOUR PAPER ON YOUR HARD DRIVE, you must submit the paper to Turnitin. You will receive a report from Turnitin indicating similarities between the text in your paper and text in an existing document. Turnitin highlights those similarities, providing an annotated document showing your paper and the original source and the percentage of the paper that was plagiarized. Plagiarism is a serious transgression in the University; students who plagiarize can be dismissed for academic misconduct.

You may re-submit your paper (overwrite a previously submitted paper) to Turnitin BEFORE THE DUE DATE to correct plagiarism. I suggest you do that. A paper that indicates a high level of direct quoting and/or lack of citations and referencing will earn a failing grade.

Procedure for submitting your paper through Turnitin:

1. CLICK on the TURNITIN icon on the Course Content page.
2. You will see paper assignments for MODULES 1-10 plus the Term Paper. CLICK on the correct MODULE paper assignment.
3. CLICK on the following statement: "If you would like to submit a paper to this assignment, click here."
4. Follow the instructions on the page for a SINGLE FILE UPLOAD. This includes indicating enrolled student, name, and submission title.
5. CLICK on "Browse" to locate your paper file on your hard drive.
6. CLICK "Upload"
7. CLICK on "Submit" to submit your paper.
8. You will be asked "Is this the paper you want to submit?" Confirm that it is the correct paper and CLICK on "Yes, Submit." You MUST do this last step for the paper to be submitted!
9. After you confirm your submission, a digital receipt will be e-mailed to you. To view your submission, click the portfolio button.

Re-Submitting a Paper:

You may overwrite your previous submission until the due date/time set for the assignment. Any second or subsequent submission will overwrite the original file submission.

1. Follow the steps for a first time submission.
2. CLICK on the "Resubmit" button in the class portfolio page. This allows the re-submission of the paper.
3. The originality report for any re-submission will require an additional twenty four hours to generate.

• Review the detailed Turnitin Instructions on how to submit your assignments and how to review the Grademark comments (feedback) from your professor.

SHORT FILMS

(3 to 15 minutes) students will become amateur filmmakers by creating a short original film utilizing themes discussed in the course (relating to myth and ritual) and elements of film (such as sound, music, photography, plot, performance, etc.). These student films can tell a straightforward structured story, or they can employ a more impressionistic or conceptual approach. In terms of equipment, ideally this will require only a smart phone video recorder and user-friendly web-based editing software. In addition to the final video product, students will also submit social media exercises, a storyboard, release forms for actors, and a brief abstract of their film. 25% of final grade
